

Social Media Disclaimer and Commenting Notice

Social Media Disclaimer

The City of Lone Tree uses external social media websites to provide a public service. The City of Lone Tree disclaims liability for any advertisements, videos, promoted content, or comments posted on these external webpages.

The responsibility of external content or comment rests with the entity or individuals providing them. Any inclusion of external content or comment on social media websites does not imply any endorsement by the City of Lone Tree.

Social Media Commenting Notice

The City of Lone Tree encourages comments, concerns, and questions regarding any of the topics posted by the City on our social media channels. However, please note that the City reserves the right to remove any of the following types of comments:

1. Off-topic comments
2. Comments that include commercial advertisements and spam or those comments that promote services or products.
3. Comments that incite imminent unlawful activity, including those containing threats;
4. Obscene comments;
5. Comments fostering, promoting, or perpetuating illegal discrimination;
6. Libelous or defamatory comments; or
7. Comments infringing on copyrighted or trademarked materials.

In addition, please note that all comments are subject to that social media's platform commenting policies and comments may be removed by the social media site itself. The City is not responsible for any comments that are deleted because the social media site has removed content.

The public comments expressed on the social media page do not reflect the opinions or position of the City of Lone, its officers, or its employees. If you have any questions or would like to report a comment in violation, please contact us.